

Ticket to Heaven

This ticket allows its bearer entrance into Heaven upon agreeing to and fulfilling the promise stated below:

I agree to be fair and honest in all business and personal transactions, as well as to be helpful and polite to friends and strangers. I will never intentionally hurt, swindle, or take advantage of any person or animal. I will not allow any religion or culture to talk me into performing acts of hate, murder, or suicide, or be brainwashed out of my free will to think and act for myself. I will work in positive ways for the greater good of humankind, starting with the health of my body and mind, and extend my positive attitude toward my family, community, and our communal home, planet Earth.

A mantra, prayer, or understanding that will carry you through the day is in this haiku:

*Life is my worship
A prayer is in each breath
My acts define God*

How can entrance to Heaven be so easy? It is easy to experience Heaven if you live, work, and play as a responsible part of the Ultimate Self, and your thoughts and acts reflect the positive aspects of the Greater Being we call God. God is everything, and everything is a part of God. Think and act ill will, and Hell is the world you create. Think and act good will, and you are already in Heaven. Live well in Heaven, and avoid the pitfalls of Hell. Well-made choices are your ticket to Heaven right here, right now.

Brian Wizard

For details on what happens when death overcomes your present life, visit <http://www.brianwizard.com> and read, Life in the Afterlife.